Sales Idea - Disability Income Insurance for Nurses

Market Watch

Registered nurses can be in need of individual disability coverage just like their medical doctor co-workers. There are nearly 3 million registered nurses in the United States.¹ This profession is expected to grow 15 percent over the next 10 years.¹ Registered nurses employed in the state and federal government can make underwriting trickier, but Assurity has the product and processes to help expedite the sale.

Client Scenario

Taylor is a 32-year-old registered nurse in Morgantown, WV. At the local VA hospital, she sees the impact of disabilities on her patients every day. Taylor is married and pregnant with her first child. Her annual salary is $78,000.

Concerns

As the primary breadwinner in her family, Taylor's income is vital for the stability of the household. She and her husband live in a $180,000 home with 20 years left on the mortgage. She has 10 years left on her $650 monthly student loan payment. They have accumulated about $12,000 in credit card debt. With a household income of $160,000, and a debt-to-credit ratio bordering on 35%, financial flexibility is more limited as they look to move into a new house for their growing family.

Solution

Protecting Taylor's paycheck will be a competing priority with other bills now and in the future. Taylor applies for an individual disability insurance plan with a monthly benefit of $2,700 for two years with a 90-day elimination period to cover her basic needs. To customize her coverage, she opts for the Supplemental DI rider² and Residual Disability Benefit rider.

Sales Idea - Disability Income Insurance for Contractors

Market Watch

Small-business owners are an integral part of the nation's economy and individual disability insurance sales, as they rank in the top occupations seeking coverage.¹ Each situation is typically different, so fact-finding about your potential client's business is critical when trying to get a sale. Reviewing both your client's personal and business expenses is essential to providing the right amount of coverage when they need it most.

Client Scenario

Robert is a 52-year-old general contractor. He has spent the past 10 years growing his business and being a father (in no particular order). He is a single dad with two kids, and work-life balance can be as challenging as changing building codes and permit approvals. Robert's net annual income is $46,000 a year, and his business has a net income of $100,000.

Concerns

As the sole provider for his children, Robert's risk is real if he gets injured on the job. He has 15 years left on a $250,000 mortgage. His children are about to enter college. He has taken on some credit card debt to fund equipment and supplies needed between jobs.

Solution

Protecting Robert's business is essential to the financial security of his family. Robert applies for an individual disability insurance plan with a monthly benefit of $2,800 for two years with a 90-day elimination period to cover his salary needs. He also takes out a monthly benefit of $15,000 in Business Overhead Expense disability income insurance to cover the operational expenses of his business. If something were to happen to Robert, this would allow him to hire someone to keep his company running while he is getting back on his feet.

Sales Idea - Disability Income Insurance for Real Estate Agents

Market Watch

There are over 440,000 real estate agents in the United States.¹ This profession is expected to grow 6 percent over the next 10 years.¹ Real estate agents with over 16 years of experience typically earn the most money.² So when targeting this occupation, ask how long they have been on the job to help you assess their purchasing power. The majority of real estate agents are female homeowners with a college education.² 46 percent of these professionals pay for their medical expenses out-of-pocket.³

Client Scenario

Jessica is a 36-year-old real estate agent. She started her career right out of college and never dreamed she would still be at it. Jessica is recently married and an independent agent in Bloomington, IL. She has built her client base over the years, and her annual salary is $125,000.

Concerns

If an illness struck, paying off debt and not working is a concern for Jessica. She and her husband just bought a $300,000 home. She has five years left on her $350 monthly student loan payment. She pays $550 a month for her luxury car lease. As an independent agent, the cost of health care is high. Even though her household income is $200,000, they're dependent on her salary to make ends meet, while saving for the future.

Solution

Protecting Jessica's paycheck should be a priority for her in any sound financial plan. She takes out an individual disability insurance plan with a monthly benefit of $6,040 over five years after a 90-day elimination period. To get more coverage for her dollar, she opts for the Supplemental DI rider⁴ and an Own Occupation rider.

Sales Idea - Disability Income Insurance for Electricians

Market Watch

There are over 660,000 electricians in the United States.¹ This profession is expected to grow 9 percent over the next 10 years.¹ At Assurity, we have underwritten this occupation for years and have found it be a great way to expand revenue channels for those who are genuinely in need.

Client Scenario

Brian is a 43-year-old electrician in Topeka, KS. He makes a living working with architects on commercial jobs building electrical systems. Brian and his wife have a household income of $105,000 and one child at home. They have worked hard to make sure their retirement years are golden by putting all they can into savings and their 401(k)s. Brian's annual salary is $52,000.

Concerns

Owning a home, the most common way Americans build wealth,² is something Brian and his wife have achieved. He truly believes in protecting this asset. They have 20 years left on their $175,000 mortgage. If Brian were unable to work due to an accident or illness for an extended period, their savings would be depleted quickly.

Solution

Brian is not easily sold but protecting what he feels is his greatest asset, his home, is key to the sale. We suggest a simplified approach and our Simplified Disability Insurance plan fits the bill. Brian applies for a Simplified Disability Income policy with a $1,000 monthly benefit over two years with a 60-day elimination period to cover his mortgage. To overcome the objection, "what if I never use it," we add a Return of Premium rider to round out the coverage.

Sales Idea - Disability Income Insurance for Physical Therapists

Market Watch

There are about 240,000 physical therapists in the United States.¹ This profession is expected to grow 28 percent over the next 10 years, which is much faster than the average for all occupations.¹ Physical therapists frequently help patients with health problems, and see the need for disability insurance coverage first-hand.

Client Scenario

Amber is a 31-year-old physical therapist from Carson City, NV. She is married with a toddler at home. She received her Doctor of Physical Therapy (PDT) degree five years ago and loves helping people in her job. Amber's annual salary is $85,000.

Concerns

Amber and her husband earn $165,000 in household income. But like 69 percent of all Americans, they have less than $1,000 in their savings account.² She and her husband own a $265,000 home. In addition to $1,000 in daycare expenses, the family has other monthly expenses, including their mortgage and $8,000 in credit card debt. Amber sees what conditions cause disabilities at work every day and realizes it can happen to anyone, at any age, at any time. If Amber were to lose her source of income due to an accident or illness, the family would need help to pay all of their bills.

Solution

Amber wants to protect her paycheck and understands the value of getting this coverage at her age. She has issued an individual disability insurance policy providing her a monthly benefit of $4,430 over two years after a 90-day elimination period. To get the most coverage for her dollar, she opts for the Supplemental DI rider.³
