Accumulation IUL and Protection Term are the only products approved for sale in New York.

Variable life insurance is sold by product and fund prospectus, which should be read carefully. They contain information on the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the variable product and its underlying investment options. These factors should be considered carefully before investing.

Variable universal life insurance has annual fees and expenses associated with it in addition to life insurance-related charges. Variable universal life insurance products are subject to market risk and are unsuitable as a short-term savings vehicle. Cash values are not guaranteed and will fluctuate, and the policy may lose value.

The ABR provides a "living benefit" if the insured is certified to be terminally ill. Benefits may be taxable under current tax law. Clients should consult their personal tax advisers regarding the tax implications of benefits received under the accelerated benefit.

The Critical Illness Benefit rider provides a one-time, lump-sum benefit for covered critical illnesses subject to eligibility requirements. The benefit will not be paid for critical illnesses initially diagnosed before the rider effective date or during the waiting period. See the product guide for additional details. John Hancock anticipates that the Critical Illness Benefit paid under this rider will generally be excludable from income under Internal Revenue Code Section 104(a)(3). However, the benefit may not qualify for this exclusion with certain third-party ownership arrangements.

This material does not constitute tax or legal advice and neither John Hancock nor any of its agents, employees or licensed agents are in the business of offering such advice. Prospective purchasers should consult their professional tax advisor for details.

The Long-Term Care (LTC) rider is an accelerated death benefit rider and may not be considered long-term care insurance in some states. There are additional costs associated with this rider. The Maximum Monthly Benefit Amount is $50,000. When the death benefit is accelerated for long-term care expenses it is reduced dollar for dollar, and the cash value is reduced proportionately. Please go to JHSalesHub.com to verify state availability.

Insurance policies and/or associated riders and features may not be available in all states. Some riders may have additional fees and expenses associated with them.

Vitality is the provider of the John Hancock Vitality Program in connection with policies issued by John Hancock.
