

Retirement Unknown

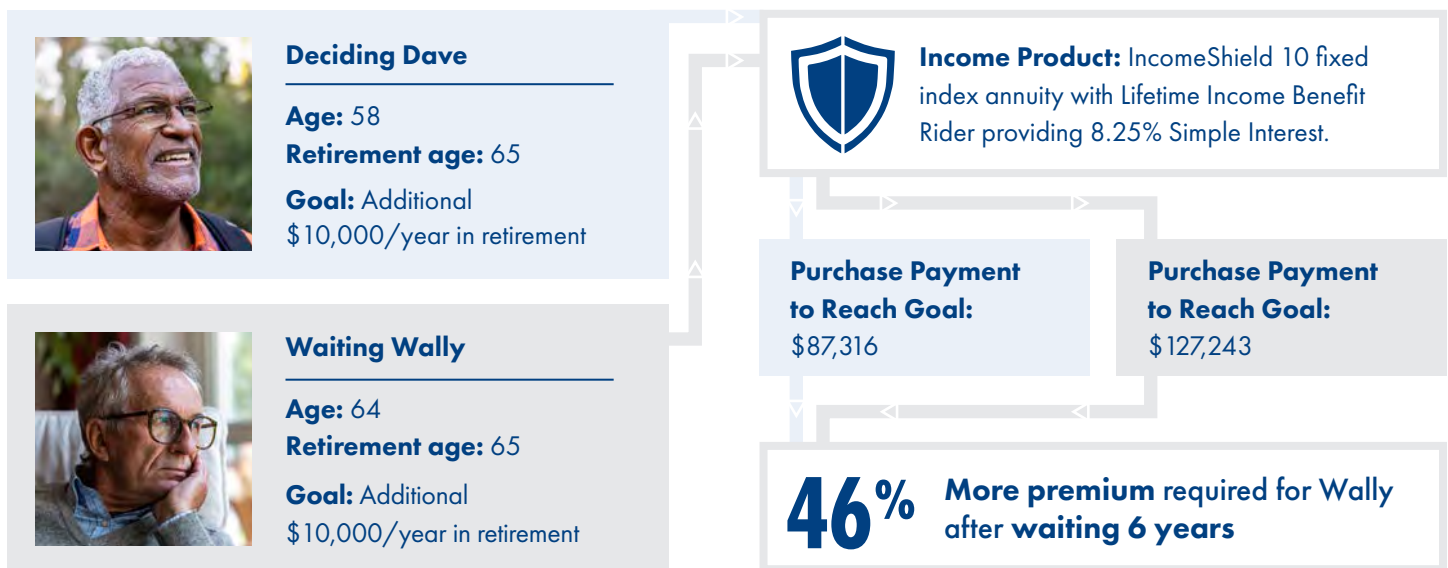

Cost of Waiting

There's no predicting the future. But, you can still prepare for what's ahead. As you plan your retirement, consider how a fixed index annuity could shield a portion of your portfolio from the cost impact of retirement unknowns like the purchasing of guaranteed income.

More Premium

Consider two individual pre-retirees, with the same retirement timing and income goals. Both choose to purchase an IncomeShield fixed index annuity to generate this income. One does so at age 58, the other at age 64.

Example shown for illustrative purposes only. Assumes no withdrawals are taken from the contract prior to income payments beginning. Excess withdrawals taken in addition to lifetime income payments will reduce future income payment amounts.

* There is a 10-year surrender charge schedule for early withdrawals exceeding 10% annually. The Lifetime Income Benefit is an option and may carry an annual fee. The Lifetime Income Benefit Rider is used to calculate lifetime income only and is not part of the contract value or available as a lump sum.

Waiting 6 Years cost 46% more premium to generate the same $10,000 in lifetime income.

The IncomeShield fixed index annuity provides the principal protection that the clients need during the critical years leading up to and into retirement. By purchasing early, Dave is able to build on that protection and secure a supplemental lifetime income stream that meets his income goals.

More Accumulation

Delaying the purchase of income and investing assets in effort to raise enough capital to reach the same purchase payment as above at age 64 ($127,243) requires a greater growth rate year after year.

■ Capital need for additional $10,000 at 65
