

Maryland training requirement reminder

503NB

Maryland law (COMAR 31.04.15.05) requires insurers to offer training in the recognition and referral of suspicious claims to independent producers who have appointments with a carrier.

Maryland independent producer anti-fraud training must meet the following requirements:

- Address specific aspects of fraud associated with North American's product lines,
- Be at least two hours in duration, and
- Be updated and reviewed every two years.

If you want to access the training related to the recognition and referral of suspicious claims, or to report suspected fraud, please review our Maryland anti-fraud training.
